You have been overcharged only if you are billed at a higher rate than that stated by the operator or if you were billed more than the maximum rates established by the Commission.

What can you do if you have been overcharged?

- If you have been overcharged, call the telephone company or its billing agent identified on your bill.
- If the company is unable to assist you, you can contact the Illinois Commerce Commission's Consumer Services Division at www.icc.illinois.gov or by mail at 527 E. Capitol Avenue, Springfield, IL 62701. Please provide a copy of your bill and an explanation of your complaint.

Note: The rates and surcharges are reviewed annually and may change each January.
